

The question uses notation to indicate a ray. If you start at point E and move to and through point F , you need an arrow at the other end in order to have the ray \overrightarrow{EF} . Drawing I is the only drawing that shows this ray.