Although one of these sketches contains $\overrightarrow{EF}$, the other two do not. If you start at point E and move to and through point F, you need an arrow at the other end in order to have the ray in the question.