

Because the B section is about one-fourth of the circle graph, one-fourth of the 60 students would be in this category. This list correctly shows 15 students next to B. However, because the graph also shows sections for C and D that are larger than B, there should be more than 15 students in both C and D. This is not the case for this list.