

Incorrect. To find the midrange, add together the least value (194) and the greatest value (318) of the data set and divide by two. The correct answer is 256.