Kevin's data does not indicate who owns a car, so he could not schedule his presentation on this basis. Also, even if there were more people with cars, there would not necessarily be more young drivers with cars.