

Because the scale on the y-axis begins at 74, the graph makes the temperature appear to have dropped considerably over the week, when it actually only dropped 6 degrees. This is the type of misleading graph that Max would want to create.