A dance studio holds an open class for anyone interested in learning how to tap dance. The teacher makes a list of the ages of those who attend the class. She is interested in making a graph to see the range of ages of the students, as well as the age group that was most represented. Which type of graph is the most appropriate for this purpose?