

Because a line graph shows continuous data over time, you would label the x -axis with a unit of time, so putting hours along the x -axis would not be misleading.