

An obtuse triangle has one angle that measures more than 90° . A triangle with three congruent sides has all acute angles (less than 90°).