

A right triangle is one that has a 90° angle. Right describes only the one triangle, not a relationship between or among triangles.