

Incorrect. For each missing measurement, set up a proportion using corresponding sides and then solve. (For example, left side over left side equals right side over right side.)