

A rectangle is defined as a quadrilateral with four right angles. Because a square is a quadrilateral with four right angles, it is also a rectangle. So all squares are rectangles.