The side lengths of the square are not part of the perimeter. The perimeter is the length of the boundary of the composite geometric figure, and the square is completely inside the flower. The perimeter consists of the four semicircles.