

Incorrect. The length of the two semicircles equals the circumference of one circle. Find the circumference of this circle and add the two lengths of the rectangle to find the entire perimeter. The correct answer is 82.