This method would be used to find the perimeter of the polygon, which is not the perimeter of the flower. The perimeter is the length of the boundary of the composite geometric figure, and the polygon is completely inside the flower. The perimeter consists of the six semicircles.