

The solid has a polygon (triangle) for a base and triangular faces that meet at a point. A rectangular prism has all rectangular faces.