In each row of the table below, a and b are legs of a right triangle, and c is the hypotenuse. Use the Pythagore Theorem to find the missing measurements. When necessary, use a calculator to estimate the square root to decimal place.	ean one