

Incorrect. First, plot two points on the boundary line. To show greater than or equal to, decide whether you need to make the boundary line dotted or solid, and whether you need to shade above or below the boundary line.