

Incorrect. Use the equation to determine the slope and y -intercept of the line. Plot the y -intercept and use the slope to plot another point on the line (for example, when $x = 1$ find the y -coordinate of the point and plot it).